Student Government

SONNY EVANS
President of the Student Body

This year interest in entrance requirements, University development, married students' housing, and faculty salaries enabled the Executive Branch of Student Government to emerge as junior partners in the University community. Particular emphasis was placed on conditions surrounding dormitory life. Effort was made to place excuses for illness within the scope of the Honor System. The traffic problem approached solution with the completion of a new student parking lot.

Student Government is more than a training ground for future life. It seeks to instill in its citizenry a social conscience and thus truly to contribute to the University community.

The Student Legislature, founded in 1938, is the supreme legislative body of Student Government. Almost every rule which pertains to Carolina student life is passed by the Legislature. In addition, the Legislature appropriates over one hundred thousand dollars in student fees to various campus organizations each year, controls scores of campus activities, and has the power to impeach and remove from office any elected student official.

The Legislature is composed of 50 students, elected from eleven campus districts. The Vice-President of the Student Body presides over the Legislature as Speaker. All other officers are elected by the legislators.

LEGISLATIVE

Chairman

The Student Council is the supreme student judicial power. It has original jurisdiction in all cases involving Campus Code violations and in those concerned with the constitutionality of any legislative or executive act. This Court also hears appeals from the Elections Board and various student courts.

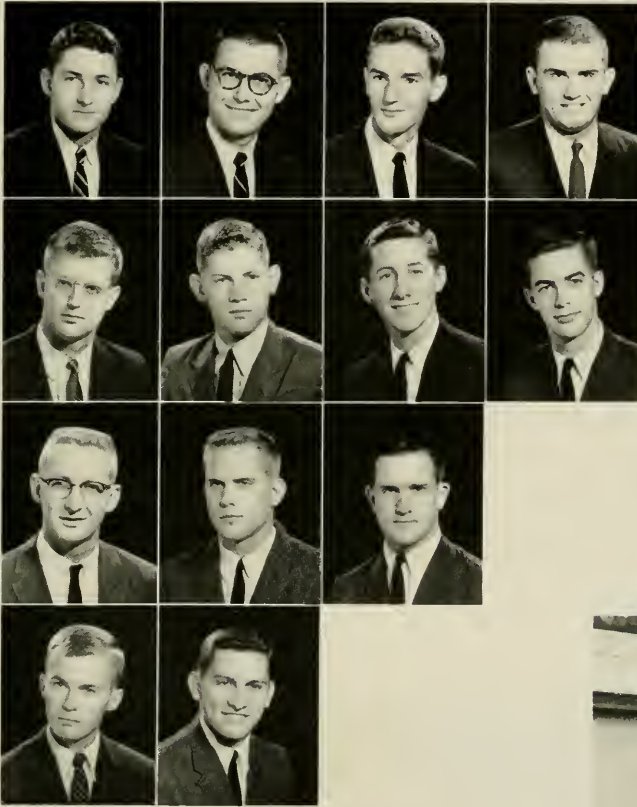

The Student Council is responsible first, to uphold the traditions and reputation of the University and to maintain the high standards of conduct set forth by the Campus Code. Secondly, it is the duty of the Council to guarantee fair representation to the student.

GEORGE RAGSDALE
Chairman

The Men's Honor Council has original jurisdiction in all cases involving violations of the Honor Code, which is binding upon all University students. The Council's role is not restricted to the hearing of cases, but is also one of promoting the Honor Code. The 1958 Council was the most successful in many years because only a very small fraction of the student body was arraigned before the court. The success can only be attributed to the fine work done during orientation. The Council has always tried to instill into the mind of every student the recognition of the fact that not only is honesty the best policy, but that it is, indeed, the only policy.

Women's Honor Council

KIT WHITEHURST
Chairman

Women's Honor Council, the highest women's judiciary body, has original jurisdiction in all cases involving violations of the Honor Code and the Campus Code by women students, tries cases concerning certain infractions of social rules, and acts as an appellate court to House Council. It is designed to insure the fairest trial possible.

Our Honor System maintains a democratic atmosphere of mutual trust and understanding between the students and the faculty. Its ultimate goal is the personal growth and development of all students, hoping to impress each student with her individual responsibility for the effectiveness of the Honor System.

Women's Residence Council

Women's Residence Council is the women's legislative branch of the Student Government. This Council coordinates dormitory and sorority life by establishing social rules; by granting late permissions; by sponsoring a campus-wide leadership training program for women; and by assuming the responsibility of broadening student-faculty, student-administration, and student-townspeople relationships. Each spring, the Editor of the Women's Handbook and the Chairman of Women's Orientation are selected by the Council. Women's Residence Council works closely with the Dean of Women's Office, Women's Honor Council, and the University Administration.

Membership on Residence Council includes the dormitory presidents, a junior member elected as representative-at-large from each dormitory, sorority house managers, House Council coordinator from Women's Honor Council, and an ex-officio member from the office of Dean of Women. The chairman is elected each year in spring elections.

Ann Miller, beginning her reign as Sweetheart of the Men's Dorms, adjusts her crown, as IDC President Tom Walters looks on.

The Men's Interdormitory Council is that instrument through which the man who lives in a dormitory can best express himself to the campus and have a part in his agency of government. Being successfully dependent on the individual's cooperation, the IDC serves the campus through serving the dorm resident. The IDC functions in close conjunction with Student Government and with the Administration.

Composed of an Executive Committee and the President and an IDC representative from each dormitory, the IDC is an integral part of the campus Student Government. This year over three thousand men lived in the nineteen dorms on the UNC campus. The IDC served them as their Judicial, Administrative, and Social mediator. The Interdormitory Court is a major part of the council, and, as the judicial branch of the IDC, tries all violations of dormitory regulations.

BILL REDDING
President

Interfraternity Council

Under the able and outstanding leadership of Bill Redding, the Interfraternity Council completed one of its most successful years. It has sought to raise the standards of scholarship, brotherhood, and character necessary to any worthy fraternity. To enhance this purpose, the IFC established this past year the R. B. House Outstanding Fraternity Award. This award, in the form of a trophy, is to be presented annually to that fraternity on campus which best embodies these ideals and achievements. athletics, was again very successful. This year the IFC co-sponsored a Richard Maltby Jazz Pops Concert, the proceeds going to two different worthy Chapel Hill charities.

The IFC, an organization composed of two members from each social fraternity, was founded to govern all social fraternities, to study their problems, and to promote cooperation among its twenty-four components. The IFC Court serves as the judicial body of this organization. The IFC conducts the very extensive rushing program and publishes a handbook, given to all entering freshmen interested in fraternities. This handbook explains rush and its rules, lists each fraternity and its members, and furnishes a short history of each chapter.

Tucker Yates, Don Millen, Bill Redding, Jerry Oppenheimer, Tom Rand.

SARAH HUDSON
President

The Panhellenic Council is composed of three representatives from each of the six sororities on campus, plus their alumna adviser; one representative from Stray Greeks; and an adviser from the office of the Dean of Women.

The purpose of Panhellenic is to coordinate sorority affairs. The Council meets once each week to discuss sorority problems, formulates rules governing rushing, and principally, fosters a friendly and cooperative spirit among sororities.

The Council sponsors various service projects during the year and also takes part in community projects in which every sorority has a chance to participate.

Independent Women's Council

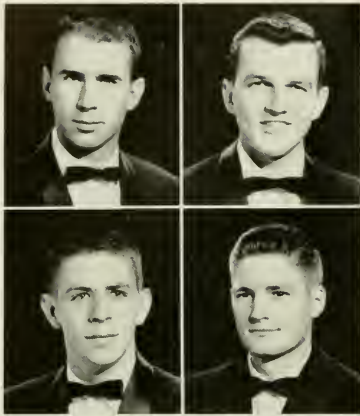

The Independent Women's Council is the governing body of the Independent Women's Association. It is composed of an executive cabinet, two representatives elected from each dormitory and the Town Girl's Association, and an adviser, from the Dean of Women's Office, Martha Decker.

The Independent Women's Council serves as a coordinating agent for campus-wide events, as well as dormitory projects, social functions, and programs which will bring the Independent Women on campus into closer contact with other University activities.

In carrying out its wide and varied program, the Council works jointly with Women's Residence Council, Men's Interdormitory Council, and Panhellenic Council.

The University Dance Committee members, distinguished by their blue and white rosettes, traditionally act as hosts for Carolina's dances and maintain order at related social functions.

This year, the Dance Committee was fortunate to have as its faculty adviser, Ray Jeffries, who unselfishly contributed both time and advice. As usual, this year's dances were outstanding, and credit and thanks are certainly due to the sponsoring organizations. With their planning, and the capable leadership of Chairman Larry Harris, the University Dance Committee again maintained the high calibre of Carolina's Dances.

The summer is over, and the first hints of fall are in the air. Chapel Hill is filled with two thousand new students, each with his own hopes, plans, and ideas. The beginning of the realization of these two thousand individual dreams lies in the one short week called Orientation.

Months of work and planning have been spent by Jerry Oppenheimer, Chairman of the Campus Orientation Committee; Sue Mayhue, Chairman of Women's Orientation; and their committees. The results of this planning are placed in the hands of

This year Graham Memorial began its twenty-sixth year on the Carolina campus — still housed in the only completed wing of the building begun in 1930. The gift of friends and students of former President Edward Kidder Graham (the novelist Thomas Wolfe served as a solicitor of financial contributions towards the construction of the building), Graham Memorial has grown in programming, if not area, with the expanding University.

Today it provides services and entertainment that every week reach almost every member of the student body. As an information center it daily handles hundreds of inquiries and redirects each week several thousand pieces of mail to temporarily "lost" students.

Each week hundreds of students gather in GM, the center of the campus' student government, for meetings ranging from honorary societies to political party sessions. Hundreds of others make use of the main lounge; the two television viewing centers; the billiard room; game room; or Rendezvous, where couples dance to the music of the juke box or an occasional combo.

So many Tar Heels find a place for themselves in the GM picture, in fact, that this year the union moved its activities into Cobb Dormitory basement and Carroll Hall.

Graham Memorial

Graham Memorial is to UNC what pizza is to the "Rat!" That extra spark that lifts school spirit, increases student activities, and gives every student a chance to be a spoke in the great wheel that keeps Carolina in motion can be found within the Activities Board of Graham Memorial. This year approximately two hundred students shared the work and fun in directing the Graham Memorial Activities Board, the programming arm of the campus student union. The fourteen Committees of G.M.A.B. provide the entertainment and the educational and recreational opportunities for a well-rounded campus life. The interest of each student can be stimulated by the movies, dances, bridge lessons, dramatic and musical productions, forum discussions, office work and various other activities included in the busy schedule of G.M.A.B.

Fun is combined with work as Sound and Fury practice is held.

Activities Board

To make sure every phase of the student's personality can find expression in the Student Union, a musical and talent production is presented each year, known to all Tar Heels as "Sound and Fury." Every weekend is filled by G.M.A.B.'s schedule of free flicks, combos, jazz sessions, dances in the Rendezvous Room, and special receptions in the parlor of G.M. The "Petite Musicale" is one of the outstanding features of the program, and this year, as a special feature, G.M. will provide free tickets for the Chapel Hill concert series.

Participation in Graham Memorial's varied program of activities remains a highlight of each student's life — a memory to be cherished always.

"Judith" was presented during the fall semester as a Petite Dramatique.

Consolidated University Student Council

KELLY MANESS
Chairman

This council, established to fulfill the needs of the Consolidated University on the student level, is composed of representative students of WC, NC State, and UNC. It acts as a liaison group, discussing problems and promoting good will and understanding among the three schools. The Council members take these issues back to the administrations and student governments at each campus. In carrying out their purpose, the Council sponsors a Consolidated University Day at UNC and at WC.

The Twenty-First State Student Legislature met in the State Capitol in Raleigh on November 7, 8, and 9, with the University of North Carolina having the largest delegation of North Carolina colleges. The mock legislature, after sharp debate, passed both of Carolina's bills which were "A Commendation of President Eisenhower and a Condemnation of Governor Faubus for Little Rock." and "A Repeal of the North Carolina Obscene Literature Bill."

Joel Fleishman of UNC was chosen the best House Debater and David Reid was elected President Pro-Tem of the Senate.

Officers of the Carolina delegation were: Pat Adams, Chairman; Whit Whitfield, Vice-Chairman; John Brooks, Floorleader; Connie Bernstein, Secretary; and Brandon Kincaid, Treasurer.

Since its inception in 1947, the National Student Association has come to represent over three hundred American colleges and universities. The UNC committee serves as a liaison between National and Regional offices.

Some of its activities include fall and spring regional assemblies, the national congress in the summer, and the collection and dissemination of information on problems pertinent to student activities.

In the short history of NSA, UNC has supplied two national presidents and a national vice-president.

This year UNC is participating in NSA's Foreign Student Leadership Project, sponsoring an Egyptian student leader from a fund set up by the Student Legislature.

The school year 1957-1958 was of particular significance for The Daily Tar Heel, since it marked the 65th anniversary of the paper. As happens every fall, the 6x6x8 cubicle in the basement of Graham Memorial — known more commonly as the Yack Office — was astir with activity even before classes began. Preparations were made for pictures to be taken; and the usual tasks of choosing a staff, contacting campus organizations about their space in the book, griping about typewriters — or the lack of them, and lining up typists got noisily underway.

As happens every winter, staff members began to disappear. But this time there was the added incentive to remain socially acceptable by joining the ranks of those suffering from an asiatic bug. Everyone intermittently was absent, but somehow the work-in-progress continued to advance — slowly!

Once upon a time, we came down to the office of our magazine and found a note saying, "Where's the copy for the Yack?" You owe us 120 words right off. just like that. Predicament. Dilemma. Nervous indigestion and Duodenal ulcers. What to write? Will we still be around in the spring? (You see the main reason why we're so worried is that the Yack makes up all its copy in the fall. So should we come out with alotofblather when maybe by then the powers that be will have cut us loose from our secure little mooring and shoved us off out into the maelstrom which is the outside world.)

We digress. The resurrection has taken place. A humor mag (in this case the Ram and Ewe) is back on campus for what it's worth (in most cases 35¢ per). We're glad.

The Publications Board is the publisher of the Daily Tar Heel, Yackety Yack, Carolina Quarterly, Carolina Handbook, and Ram and Ewe at the University. Operating on an annual budget of approximately $100,000.00, the Board acts as a supervisory body and is charged with complete financial responsibility for these student publications. Two faculty advisors, editors-in-chief and business managers of each publication, and two Student Legislature members constitute the Board's membership. The Publications Board has been able to point with pride to some of the finest college publications in the country, and strives to preserve this outstanding record of student endeavor for the University and the nation.

The Dialectic Senate was founded in 1795 and is the oldest college debating society in the United States. Through the years the Di has contributed much to the University, State, and Nation. Carolina men who were members of the Senate include such greats as James Knox Polk, Frank Porter Graham, Thomas Wolfe, and Luther Hodges.

Each Tuesday night, on the third floor of New West, the Dialectic Senate debates a bill of Philosophical, Political, or General Interest. The Senate hall is one of the most beautiful rooms on the campus. Each senator and guest has the opportunity to express his ideas by speaking on the bill. SONNY HALLFORD
Chairman

The 1958 Symposium attempted to focus the attention of the University community on the key issue of our times: survival. It explored the various dimensions of this question, from the point of view of the immediate aspects of the problem and its long-range complexities.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

Symposium

In subject matter the speakers and contributors to the Symposium considered: the threats and promises of contemporary science, the political strategies of peace and war, the strengths and weaknesses of contemporary educational techniques, the relationships of American cultural patterns to others in the world, and the reasons why survival has value in human, democratic, religious and ethical terms.

In the course of Symposium week in March a great variety of distinguished speakers came to the University campus for seminars, classroom discussions and formal addresses. Students, faculty, and citizens participated in these stimulating activities.

MR. BILL GEER
Adviser

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Sonny Hallford; Mary Jane Fisher; Jerry Oppenheimer, Chairman; Mr. Bill Geer. Standing: Dr. Shepherd Jones, Mr. Jimmy Wallace, Al Goldsmith, Herman Godwin, Ed Levy, Dr. George Nicholson.

Members of the concert band rehearse each Monday and Thursday afternoon in Hill Z.

Band

Band officers are Eddie Bass, President; Jerry Sullivan, Vice-President, and Bill Kellam, Secretary-Treasurer.

The University of North Carolina Bands — the Marching Tarheels and Concert Band — directed by Herbert W. Fred, provide the opportunity for Carolina students to study and perform the best in music literature.

The Marching Tarheels, with Drum Major Josh Sirken, and majorettes Jane Brock and Caroline Osburne, headed by Jo Carpenter, have become a trademark of Saturday afternoon activity in Kenan Stadium.

This year the Marching Tarheels appeared before the Queen of England at the UNC-Maryland football game and played host to thousands of high school bandmen at Carolina's Band Day. The band also performed on television during the UNC-Duke game. A special pep band performs at all pep rallies and at several basketball games.

The Concert Band, composed of selected instrumentalists, commences immediately after the close of the football season. The band's schedule this year included formal concerts in Hill Hall, spring concerts under the Davie Poplar, a spring concert tour, and the annual Commencement Concert.

The Symphonic Wind Ensemble, a selected group playing more difficult concert selections, presented a concert in Hill Hall this spring with Percy Grainger as guest conductor.

Carolina Playmakers

Albert Gordon, as La Hire, and Amanda Meiggs, as Joan, in "The Lark."

In 1918, Frederick H. "Proff" Koch joined the University English Department and introduced his now-famous English 31, a course for beginning playwrights. Proff Koch's efforts toward a new and vital folk drama resulted not only in such successful American playwrights as Paul Green and Josephina Niggli but also the Carolina Playmakers, today a famed University theatre. Its famous building, across from the Old Well, was the first state-owned playhouse in the United States to be dedicated to the writing and producing of native drama.

The Carolina Playmakers are a very real Community Theatre. Any student, member of the faculty, or resident of the area may become a member simply by taking an active part in any one of the many phases of production of a Playmaker play.

The Playmakers' work now falls into two categories. First, there is a program of major productions; and second, there are experimental productions written, staged, and acted by students. At least one full-length play by a new playwright is presented as a major production. A third category also may be added. For the Playmakers are responsible for bringing to Chapel Hill many professional Broadway productions presented in Memorial Hall.

Playing in "A Midsummer Tonic," an original one-act play by James Poteat, are Dee Casey, Emily Jackson, Bobbi Bounds, Joan Tyler, Myra Lauterer, Barbara Bounds, Russell Link, and Peter Sinclair.

Junior Playmakers Lyl Wray, Tommy Rezutta, Carolyn Melton star in the Forest Theatre production "The Insect Comedy."

Andrea Mayland and John Whitty in "April in the Moon," an original one-act play by Lewis Ennis.

"Teahouse of the August Moon" starring William Smith as Sakini, Joe Dillard as Fishy, and Barbara Battle as Miss Higa Jiga.

Jim Thompson, as Bhrudah, idiot member of an international ring of diamond thieves, gloats over his crimes in the Sound and Fury production, "Thieves Holiday."

Dick Stoker, Carol Jean Suther, and "Pepper" Tice, gay revelers at Mardi Gras in "Thieves Holiday."

Jane Brock, as Kafantun, the cabaret dancer, dances her way through the Sound and Fury production.

Men's Glee Club

The UNC Men's Glee Club, the University's only traveling choral group, is composed of 85 men selected from the school's male population. Under the direction of Dr. Joel Carter, the club offers cantatas, sacred and lighter secular numbers.

The touring group, composed of about 50 voices, conducts two annual tours covering large portions of North Carolina and the Eastern United States.

In its initial performance for 1957-1958, the Glee Club sang at the University Day exercises and inauguration of Chancellor Aycock in October. That month also saw them take an extensive tour along the Eastern Seaboard to Maryland. They sang in Hill Hall for the annual Christmas Concert in December. Neighborhood performances and a full spring concert in March, which took them throughout western North Carolina and eastern Tennessee, rounded out their successful year.

Officers of the Glee Club are Charles Shoe, Ralph Harrington, Ben Taylor, Darrell Hawkins, Don Murphy, James Kinney.

Hotdogs and Cokes replace interest in organizations at the Activities Session in the Tin Can.

Come September, the village of Chapel Hill welcomed the noise and the hustle of the new and returning students. The Carolina Gentlemen of three days returned from Freshman Camp to explore the campus — their home for the next four years. Harried fathers filled the halls of dorms with typewriters, hatboxes and . . . oh yes, daughters. But Orientation soon became the order of the day with tests . . . and talks . . . and physicals . . . and conferences. Registration turned out to be one long line after another and all you ended up with was two 8 o'clocks, two 12's and afternoons of labs. "Sophisticated" upperclassmen returned to the campus — and suddenly realized they were glad to be back. And finally there was nothing left but classes.

Quite a few after-class hours were taken up with rush, however. Six sororities wooed the coed transfers while frustrated freshmen trudged from big frat court to Rosemary Street only to be confused by more names, more sales talk. And don't forget football — the frenzied rush from classes to get a good seat at the game, the struggle of the high-heeled dates to keep their balance on the steep hill to the student section, the "give 'em hell, Tar-beels!" the half-time activities that you never saw because you were spelling out "Welcome Visitors" in the Card Section, the 40-yard pass play that was called back because of offsides, and the touchdown that netted Carolina six points and netted you a hug and a kiss from your date and a drink down your neck from the guy behind you. The old grad returned to marvel that "they've finally bricked in the walk around the Old Well" and to recall the "good ole days." At Homecoming, the football spirit was captured in the displays that were planned for a month, built in a week and forgotten in a day.

A large part of the freshman year is spent shaking hands.

Frank Black leads cheers in a pre-game rally.

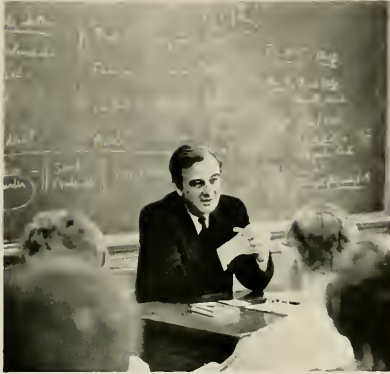

SP and UP meetings suddenly came alive with an air of suspense and tension. Candidates were nominated, posters went up in every available spot, and aspiring politicians beamed and spoke to everyone. After elections, Germans became the topic of conversation — you discussed your plans, your date, Les Elgart and even what to wear. Although your W. C. date did arrive too late for the concert, that couldn't spoil your weekend.

Fall elections end several weeks of backslapping — until just before election in the spring.

Neither football, nor Germans, nor the flu can stop those daily classes.

1957 will go down in history as the year of the flu epidemic — the several weeks when professors were barely heard above the coughs and sniffles. Classes continued, however, "the plague" subsided and you went back to working the daily crossword in peace.

As the bird will witness, this rifle has not been fired in quite some time.

The flu made impromptu hospitals out of every dormitory, fraternity, sorority and rooming house.

Dukathon: A simple case of people with more energy than they know what to do with.

The weekend of the Duke game involved more than just plain football. Dorms, fraternities, sororities plunged in to build floats for the "Beat Dook" Parade. Plans were made, materials bought, more materials begged, borrowed and stolen; and work went on late at night and in the early morning hours. And in typical Chapel Hill fashion, it began to rain just at parade time. The Queen and her court — protected by large black umbrellas — looked no less lovely, and the sodden crepe paper masses moved on as scheduled. All the festivities ended in a glorious climax which no small matter such as rain and an overcast sky could affect. Carolina defeated Duke — for the first time in eight years — and the Tarheels legally regained possession of the Victory Bell.

During the year 1957-1958, you saw many signs of progress on the campus. Among them, an art museum, the Administrative Offices of the Consolidated University and behind the gym, far, far from the campus, you saw large brick buildings rising through the trees — men's dorms designed to build leg muscles.

On a certain cold November evening, Memorial Hall blossomed forth with the lovelies of Carolina for the Yack Beauty Contest. While these young ladies paraded before the judges and a most appreciative audience, there was even more excitement backstage where the 107 candidates preened and primped as they awaited their turn.

Before you knew it, those autumn days and football Saturdays were a thing of the past. Suddenly it was December — time for holidays and Christmas. Those window displays on Main Street for the first time became very important when they helped you choose the ideal gift for Dad and your best girl. Right in that last week, everyone planned those parties — usually on the evening before your two hour quizzes — but what the hell, it's Christmas! Finally after a morning of 90-minute hours, you dashed back to the dorm to pick up that hastily packed bag and a pile of books — destined only to gather dust over the holidays. So you went home, and the village of Chapel Hill settled down for several weeks of comparative peace and plenty of parking space.

and then again
we "study."

The Book X sells cigarettes—but bring your own matches.

Between the end of Christmas vacation and exams that large building at the bottom of the quadrangle — known as the Library — became more than just a social spot. You found yourself spending whole evenings there in search of that fool reserve reading book and then trying to understand what it meant. For the first time the light dawned and you began to get an inkling of what that professor had been driving at all semester. On the day before the "big one" you realized you'd have to forego those minutes wasted in the Y, that interesting conversation with the guy across the table and that long desired but undeserved coffee break in the Pine Room. So you finished your exams and dashed away for a well-earned rest before starting back on the endless round of classes, weekends and quizzes.

Billiards is a fine clean game—no gambling is allowed in Graham Memorial.

KD pledges are honored with a dance in the Inn Ballroom.

During those chilly winter months you turned to indoor entertainment — and found plenty of it. Woollen Gym was literally packed to the rafters for those home games in basketball, and maybe you even got to attend — if your name was in the “A-M’s” and you remembered to exchange your ticket ahead of time. Sororities and fraternities honored their pledges with dinners, parties and dances at the Inn, the Country Club, in Durham or just a nearby cabin.

On a long winter’s afternoon you could always stroll over to G.M. for bridge, chess or just to listen to the music, and, of course, the poolroom, crowded and smoky, but where you could always learn a few new tricks.

Wonder if the referee saw that one?

The Carolina student body gives a standing ovation and more when "the team" comes through the hoop.

McGuire gives final instructions just before the horn.

Studies were forgotten as McGuire's boys moved confidently from victory to victory, and you didn't miss a single game. Between games you found time to take in that flick downtown, and afterwards you and your date paused before the steamy windows of the Dairy Bar wondering whether to get a sundae or just a cup of coffee. Perhaps you spent a few hours at the Rat discussing matters of no great importance over pizza and beer. As you walked with your date across the misty campus, you wondered where the time had gone. There were many more things to be said, but the lights had blinked for the second time, so a quick goodnight and "See you tomorrow."

10:45—just time for a hamburger before the Dairy Bar closes.

Second semester found the fraternity pledges involved in a constructive and time-consuming operation known as Greek Week and a destructive but even more time-consuming operation called Hell Week — oops, that's been outlawed, hasn't it?

Sundays at Carolina were most unusual — no classes. You found these days quite useful for sacking out, catching up or even going to church. On Sunday evening you could always get a good meal and better fellowship at a supper-forum in a local church.

And what about the Pine Room — home of coffee, doughnuts, pizza, and everybody who was looking for an excuse to quit studying? It was also the nearest spot to take the cute little coed who kept making eyes at you across the table in the Reserve Reading Room.

Just how far will a coed go to get her picture taken?

Sigma Chi Geek gets more than a taste in the pie-throwing contest.

You have to come early to get a good seat.

As the days got warmer, it became harder and harder to spend an afternoon indoors. Perhaps you walked over to Kenan one of those afternoons to see the girls parade in shorts for the judging of the Sigma Chi Derby Queen. Or maybe you strolled over to Emerson not so much for the baseball game but just to sit in the sun and see who was there. And later on, social pressure forced you to give up lunch so that you too might have a suntan. Somehow, Greensboro seemed a lot closer — or maybe the attraction was greater.

Busses filled the Planetarium parking lot as high school students invaded the campus to see The University. A new generation of bees appeared to plague sun-basking Y-Courters. Convertible tops came down, and all roads led to Hogan's as winter weary Tarheels began their exodus to the poor man's Miami Beach — or perhaps you splurged and took a Wednesday-to-Sunday weekend at Myrtle. With Bermudas as accepted campus wear, campus dress became even more informal.

Y-Court provides the ideal spot to meet that coed—or that guy—you've had your eye on.

The Golden Fleece recognizes outstanding figures of the school year.

While you goofed off all those warm afternoons and shot the breeze on those spring evenings, somebody must have been working because the Order of the Golden Fleece and the Valkyries, in solemn and suspenseful ceremony, tapped the outstanding men and women on campus. May went by much too fast what with Hogan's beach parties, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera, and right toward the end, the faculty slipped in a few examinations. It was kind of hard for you to study though, when you really had to pack — and everybody else had a "to heck with 'em" attitude too.

You assembled with your class for the last time at the Bell Tower. As you walked toward Kenan, you did have sort of a sense of accomplishment — you, a college graduate; but at the same time you hated to leave those many friends and those marvelous times, the best you ever had.

An endless academic procession makes its way into Kenan Stadium.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for pre-medical and pre-dental students. It was founded at the University of Alabama, April 28, 1926. There are over 13,200 members in 64 active chapters at schools throughout the United States.

The North Carolina Beta Chapter was founded at the University of North Carolina on March 27, 1936. The object of the society is to encourage excellence in pre-medical and pre-dental scholarship, to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of pre-medical education in the study of medicine, to promote cooperation and contacts between medical students and educators in developing an adequate program of pre-medical education, and to bind together similarly interested students.

A trek to Bug's Island for a worthy cause . . . clearing university property in preparation for picnic areas, boat landings and beaches . . .

The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega is to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop leadership and friendship, and to promote service to humanity. This imposing objective includes four fields of activity: 1. Service to the student body and faculty; 2. Service to youth and community; 3. Service to members of the fraternity; 4. Service to the nation as participating citizens.

Alpha Phi Omega has sponsored Parents' Day, operated a book exchange, sold magazines to students at a discount, ushered at student functions, and worked on the Campus Chest Drive.

In addition, Rho Chapter has assisted the local Boy Scout council by supplying leadership to troops, provided scout camp scholarships, assisted in the community Empty Stocking Fund Campaign, and conducted guided tours of the campus.

To its members Alpha Phi Omega has provided fellowship and the satisfaction of serving others. A number of supper events, banquets, and social outings have been held.

... Pardon me please, while I check with Mr. Goren on this matter.

The beginning of the 1957-58 year finds 28 stalwart AKPsi's seated around their "face-lifted" bar being refueled for the new year. The walls have been repainted a lively black to lend atmosphere and thus prevent scrutiny of the concoctions served by acting bar tender, Will Frye. The shelves are well stocked, giving promise of a successful semester. Jim Dixon's "Beep-Beep" finally purged, only to be replaced by Baggy's "Hi-Ho" . . . "little Bobby Lindsey," a bird lover, a buzzard found in his bed . . . The brothers offering to plaster "Long Island" Smith's room with press notices . . . "Pug" and "Anyone for Brady's?"

. . . Bill Smith is still "Finely" . . . Gino Moore still enduring sloppy roommate, "MOOSE" Clapp . . . "Reservoir" Campbell draining the beer barrel . . . "Otis" Banks making the rounds cementing relationships after midnight . . . Pledge Drye and his "Mother" (on the cider, that is) . . . "Little Bobby" painting his turtles "Carolina Blue" for the Maryland Weekend . . . The release of the "Blue" turtle on the Maryland Campus after the game . . . Brother Moore's inventory of furnishings at the Harrington Hotel . . . "Happy Jack" Brown giving "Hit Parades" to the rushees . . . So goes another year.

MBA Club

The Master of Business Administration Club was organized in 1953 in an effort to maintain the spirit which developed among former candidates. Objectives of the club include promotion of better student-faculty relationships, coordination of the academic program with actual business situations and problems, emphasis of the public and social responsibilities of business men, and development of an active alumni association. Activities include social gatherings with faculty members, publication of an alumni newsletter, and the sponsoring of addresses by business and educational leaders.

Fun, fellowship and food highlight a campus-wide Y-night.

Food is an integral part of Freshman Camp.

The YMCA is a non-denominational lay movement made up of students, faculty and friends who seek to come to a deeper understanding of the Christian faith and its relation to all areas of life through worship, study and action.

Membership in the YMCA is voluntary and open to all on the basis of interest without regard to race, doctrine or church affiliation. At the heart of the movement is this objective: taking a student where he is and giving him an opportunity to grow as an individual in Christian dedication and effectiveness.

In the second year of joint work with the YWCA, the program has expanded and grown. Freshman Camp, an annual three-day conference for new students, began this year's program. A new program was begun this year, "Faith and the Fine Arts," a TV production where the works of art are discussed according to their religious dimension.

Cosmopolitan Club

The Cosmopolitan Club is a group open to all foreign and American students, faculty, and townspeople. The meetings provide an opportunity to get together socially and to exchange the cultural ideas of the thirty-five different countries represented in the Club. Group participation in the programs helps promote mutual understanding and friendship among the members.

MARGARET HUNT
President

The regular meetings consist of a social hour and programs given by the members about their countries. The Club's big events of the year are its International Dinner and International Open House in which the food, songs, and dancing from the four corners of the earth are provided by the membership.

Officers of the Cosmopolitan Club are Margaret Hunt, President; John Moller, Vice-President; Silvia Hinnon, Secretary; and Kenny Yang, Treasurer.

Newman Club

Newman Club members meet at the newly erected St. Thomas Aquainus Chapel every Sunday evening.

TATE ROBERTSON
President

The Newman Club, whose name and ideals are derived from the renowned Cardinal Newman of England, is a nationally federated organization of Catholic students. It offers Catholic student Religious, Intellectual, and Social Cooperation and Inspiration.

The Newman Club moved to the newly erected St. Thomas Aquainus Chapel, which has enabled a wider program of activities, including dinners.

The leaders of the Newman Club for the past year have been: Paul Wachendorfer, President; Kitty Corr, Vice-President; George Galloso, Treasurer; and Pat Heeden, Secretary.

Hillel Foundation

BOB WEINSTEIN
President

The B'nai Brith Hillel Foundation at the University of North Carolina celebrates its 21st birthday this year and is thus among the oldest Hillel Foundations in the United States.

Hillel exists to relate the Jewish student to his heritage of the past, to make him aware of his present, and to prepare him for his future within the framework of the Jewish community. It carries out these objectives through Religious, Cultural, Social, and other activities. In addition, the student can find in the person of the Hillel Director a source of help and counsel with respect to problems by which he is confronted.

There is general Jewish student registration in Hillel and the continuing planning of program is in the hands of a student Cabinet.

Lutheran Student Association

Talks on Christian responsibility, prejudice, evangelism, and Lutheran World Federation; special worship services; and recreation events have been program features. Members participate in LSA state, regional, and national conferences, as well as in the local congregation.

Officers are William Houser, President; Frances Reynolds, Vice-President; James Kinney, Secretary; and Dana Quade, Treasurer. Committee chairmen are Douglas Caston, Max Petzold, Betty Huffman, Ray Yonmt, Caroline Wilson, George Reese, and Lawrence Lohr. In seven-state regional activity, William Houser serves as President and Susanne Mosteller as Secretary. Lawrence Lohr is Vice-President of the North Carolina area.

Each Sunday evening, this affiliate of the Lutheran Student Association of America, brings together a large number of its 60 members for a supper meal, devotional, and program. Emphasis is upon student participation in all aspects of this activity.

Bill Houser conducts his weekly business meeting before devotional services are held by the members.

Military

AFROTC

The AFROTC unit at the University of North Carolina, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Swann, has for eleven years been an integral part of the school. The United States Air Force has been recognized as America's first line of defense, so it is the purpose of the program to provide a ready supply of officer material. New pilots and observers must be constantly trained.

CAPT. T. R. HUMPHREY
Commandant of Cadets

In giving the AFROTC cadet the opportunity to integrate his preparation for a role as a responsible citizen with the more specific preparation for a role as a well-trained Air Force officer, the Air Force hopes to produce more well-rounded officers. Training here at the University consists of intensive classroom work as well as laboratory work on the drill field. Principles of effective leadership and the importance of military discipline are stressed.

The Corps of Cadets at the University of North Carolina has this year been changed in organization from a

Sabre Air Command

To promote the effectiveness of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, to increase interest in the concept of Air Power, and to provide an opportunity for further development of leadership aside from the regular AFROTC program are main purposes of Sabre Air Command.

The Alease Saunders Squadron at UNC was organized during the academic year 1956 and has continually grown in both size and effectiveness. At the present time it is unique among military honor societies in that it devotes all its efforts to the freshmen and sophomore cadets, helping to prepare them for the Advanced Corps and eventually commissions in USAF.

Membership in Sabre Air Command is restricted to freshmen and sophomores who show definite leadership abilities and willingness to express themselves through efforts. Creating a sense of responsibility and gaining the knowledge in methods of its employment are integral parts of Sabre Air Command's mission.

In creating a closer esprit de corps the Sabre Air Command has greatly contributed to the Air Force ROTC program. Operation Build-Up at the beginning of the fall semester is a main project for Sabre Air Command each year since its inception. Operation Build-Up, a recruiting campaign to enroll freshmen in the Corps, is carried out through the efforts of the Cadet Corps with the organizational plans being formulated and arrangements made by joint efforts of Sabre Air Command and Arnold Air Society in conjunction with the detachment staff.

Arnold Air Society

“We of the Air Force ROTC accept this motto as a challenge and a pledge that in the future we shall by diligent and unrestrained effort instruct and train ourselves so that each of us shall have the qualities and attributes essential to our progressive and continued development throughout our lifetime as Officers of the United States Air Force.”

The Arnold Air Society is a national military fraternal organization designed to recognize and develop outstanding leadership among the members of the AFROTC throughout the nation. The activities of the Jesse J. Moorhead Squadron here at UNC are many and diversified, and because the membership is made up of outstanding advanced cadets, the entire cadet corps has benefited from suggestions and ideas which have originated from this society.

Unit Color Guard

Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps units are established throughout the country for the purpose of providing qualified Regular and Reserve Officers to the Navy and Marine Corps.

Students in the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps, although required to take the same courses and participate in the same drills and other activities while at the University, fall into two categories: regular and contract.

The regular program is a primary source of Regular career officers for the Navy and Marine Corps. These students are selected on a nationwide, competitive basis. They receive tuition, books, and fees as well as $600 per year retainer pay. They are required to participate in three summer training cruises while in the program, and to accept a regular commission and serve on active duty for four years upon graduation.

The contract program offers Naval Science training to qualified students and a commission in the Naval Reserve, the Regular Marine Corps, or the Marine Corps Reserve upon graduation. Students enrolled in this program receive a small monthly allowance during their junior and senior years, but must pay their own tuition and other expenses. One summer training cruise between the junior and senior years is required of contract students. Upon graduation they are required to accept a commission and remain on active duty for two years.

Summer Cruise

After forming friendships with contemporaries in the navies of seventeen nations at the International Naval Review in Norfolk, Midshipmen from UNC joined the Fleet for two months of summer cruising.

The day began at 0600; they worked until 1600, and often stood watches through the night. Midshipmen learned the ships from the bilges to the funnels, and generally ended up cleaning both. While seniors practiced navigating their ships through rough weather, the sophomores were introduced to the ancient arts of painting and holystoning.

However, all training was interrupted as the ships crossed the Equator, and a new generation of "Shell-backs" was born. The pleasures of warm nights under the Southern Cross at sea was exceeded only by those ashore. Some of the Middies went to Rio, and some to Sao Paulo; but all became confirmed "cariocas" in one wonderful week. After stopping briefly in Trinidad and Puerto Rico, Cuba was the destination. In "Gitmo" the last salvo from the last battleship's guns was fired, as well as the newest missiles from the newest cruiser.

Back in the states, the UNC contingent met college sailors returning from Quebec, and then left for home to tell sea-stories — each tanned Middy now a "world traveler," and waiting for even more fun the next summer.

Scabbard and Blade

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is a nation-wide military honor society with chapters located in leading colleges and universities having ROTC programs. Membership is by election only and selection is based upon military leadership and academic merit, the members being outstanding ROTC officers. The purpose of the society is to maintain and develop the qualities inherent in good and efficient officers, to prepare these officers to take a more active part and exert a greater influence in the military affairs of our country,

The year 1957 got off to a good start under the leadership of president, Chuck May. Betas were active in campus athletics and our teams participated in intramural athletics and won the campus tennis championship.

Beta ranked third on campus scholastically this year and five of our juniors were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa with Graham Holding being named president.

Socially speaking, we started off the year in high gear and haven't let up. An excellent seventeen man pledge class bolstered spirit to its peak. There seems to be something doing every weekend. After we counted noses, we discovered that practically everyone returned to make Chi Psi's 103rd year a year to remember. Our beloved parrot was still with us ready to resume her role as housemother. We were delighted to see that her vocabulary of profanities was once again quite adequate. One and all were overwhelmed with the new crop of coeds and a few of the "movers" led the charge. Nineteen new individuals appeared on the scene ready, willing, and able to begin a whole new life. While parties, banquets, and balls stood second only to scholarship, the qualities of dignity and conservatism continued. The 107th year of Beta Chapter, 1957, found the Dekes dapper and determined as evidenced by — “Bear” Walker’s perennial hibernation and the on-again-off-again love affair of the “spastic.” Few of us can forget Borden’s satchel-derriere and obligation dating or the “vet-block,” with “pivotal-district” Shuford as its avante-guarde. Todd, Harry, “Panda Bear” and “Sputnik” (beep-beep) Cobb continued to display their Phi Bete potential, while Link lectured on anthropology and was still in pursuit of “that” girl. Things seemed about normal as Zog played his poor-mouthed housemother role to the hilt.

At the end of the year two overcrowded semesters had reduced themselves into a kaleidoscopic blur of last minute intramural touchdowns, “lost beach week-

Dear Dad.

Have to make this brief as the Comissar of the Y.Y. put a quota on writing space; LXA's had a great year; good pledge class though C.H. and V.M. may think differently; K.B., P.W., M.R. and G.S. spent 2 semesters at W.C.; F.C. and G.K. have reserved seats at the Tempo; D.D. writes us from Catawba often; J.F., S.T. and J.L. moved out, complaining about the stillness; L.G. missed seeing J.C. at Ko-ed Korner; D.K. and H.L. broke up? with their chicks; and C.F. puts down brew to play flute. All this topped off with our 30th Anniversary banquet and a great bunch of

The year was kicked off by McDaniel with a new-looking house and the top pledge class. We gained momentum with a Teltas flareup that died in the face of staid Alpha SigSig, while the pledges provided a Beat Dook float winner.

Helmsman Fireball diverted himself with Germans, duck hunts, and business-school-like mysteries, while Wendy struggled valiantly in the face of stove and Reet. Darnell featured new and impregnable point system for the pledges, and Floyd became chief prosecutor. Moon continued his devotion to fraternity and Killinger shortly followed suit, while Claytor and Pittman tried their fingers in assorted pies.

Buoyed up by the renewed campus spirit, the Phi Kaps rocketed into this the year of Sputnik with a great pledge class.

The judge left accompanied by hearty cheers — we inherited some parking space, if only temporarily.

Aman began the year by coaching Rusty in the art of hedge hopping. Tank played Little Caesar and Mulvihill shillelaghed McGraw. Goat took the hook, and Pops taught Baby Bruce. Doug began striving, Jake continued buying, and Menke beamed. Terry blurted badly. Rocky began mountain climbing.

Mr. Wonderful cringed at the Barkley electrical nightmare. Big C aided the D.I. in drilling the pledges.

“Yul” Ab remained the shining light. Babbling Britt, Delinquent Dennis, and Koch the Gig predicted an outstanding 101st year for the Phi Kaps.

Psi chapter of Sigma Nu began one of its finest years by electing James Kimzey, President. It then established its continued fraternity strength by taking in one of the finest pledge classes in its history. With its alumni interest and participation becoming outstanding, Psi enjoyed five great football weekends which were celebrated in true Sigma Nu fashion. The basketball weekends and sorority parties gave impetus to many "blasts," and Sigma Nu ended 1957 in a most rewarding fashion — by playing Santa Claus to an excited group from Wright's Refuge.

Sigma Nu managed to maintain its high scholastic rating simultaneously with intramural and social programs. The social program was brought to a climax by a "blowout" at the pledge weekend. As the school year came to a close, Sigma Nu, in a farewell ban-

As the book closes on the 1957-58 school year, Upsilon looks back on many wonderful memories. The year began with a splendid pledge class. Homecoming, Germans, and the annual Christmas Party followed in rapid succession.

Under the leadership of Mac Patton, the Centennial Weekend this spring was highly successful. As usual, the Brothers showed their customary participation and interest in intramurals and upheld their familiar high standards in the race for the cup.

With graduation terminating the college careers of an outstanding Senior Class, we of Upsilon wish them the best of luck in their struggle with the world, and

German Club

The German Club is an organization composed of representatives from thirteen social fraternities which sponsor the three big dance weekends on the UNC campus each year. This year the German Club brought some of the nation's outstanding entertainment to our campus.

The dance series began in November on the North Carolina-South Carolina football weekend with Les Elgart and his orchestra providing music for both the concert and the dance. For an added attraction the fabulous "Wash-Board Band" from Sea Island, Georgia, provided a style of music that almost raised the roof of Memorial Hall at the concert.

For Winter Germans the German Club brought forth the "new look" in the German Club dances.

For the first time the dance was semi-formal and provided four entertainment attractions. At the dance on Friday night, the orchestra of Billy Knauff provided smooth dance music while comedian Leo de Lyon and the rock-and-roll stars, the Gladiolas, added to the cabaret atmosphere. Stray Greeks

The Stray Greek Organization is composed of sorority girls whose chapters are not represented on this campus. Its aim is to provide a social outlet for its members, and to preserve the bonds on unity and sisterhood in sorority life.

This group was founded in 1944 under the leadership of Twigg Branch. It has gained more and more recognition on campus since then, and its membership now is almost twenty. This year the Stray Greeks handled the Panhellenic Post Office during sorority rush week, and each member served as a Panhellenic Adviser in her own dormitory. The Stray Greeks also took part in the Woman's Athletic program, service projects, and social events.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club is an honorary organization for the athletes on the Carolina campus who have attained enough promise in their individual sport or sports to merit their earning a varsity letter. Once an athlete has won one letter, he has the privilege of becoming an active member of the Monogram Club. These are the boys who have fought hard for Carolina's glory until the last sound of the whistle. All have worked hard — no one earns a letter without some extra effort and work on his part.

The function of the Monogram Club itself is to improve and advance athletes at Carolina, to better interschool relations, to serve its campus in various activities, and to serve as a media whereby the athletes of all sports can meet and become better acquainted. The Monogram Club has various social functions throughout the year with the highlight being the annual beach weekend in the late spring. Each year the

COACH JIM TATUM

Coach Jim Tatum after only two years as head coach brought the University of North Carolina its first winning season in eight years. The surprising Tar Heels won six games while losing four. The finest aspect of the season was the 21-13 victory over the Duke Blue Devils.

Coach Tatum's team was always exciting to watch as the Tar Heels beat some of the best teams in the country including Navy and Miami. The Tar Heels had other wins over Clemson, Wake Forest, and South Carolina. Powerful Tennessee clobbered

North Carolina won the Dixie Classics for the second straight year beating St. Louis, Duke, and N. C. State. Pete Brennan and Tommy Kearns made All-Tournament. Pete Brennan also made the Kentucky Classic All-Tournament.

Coach Frank McGuire's starting lineup has never been settled. Pete Brennan, Tommy Kearns, and Lee Shaffer have been consistent starters, while Bob Cunningham, Harvey Salz, and Dick Kopley have fought it out for the other two positions. Danny Lotz, Roy Searcy, Ray Stanley, John Crotty, and Greg Poole have all shown outstanding ability.

COACHES WALT RABB and BILL WILHELM

1957 Baseball Season

Coach Walt Rabb's baseball team barely lost the ACC title to Duke last spring. The squad ended the season with a 9-5 conference record and a 15-10 overall record.

Jim Raugh, second-string All-American, was the vital man in Carolina exploits. He ended his career with a 7-3 record and a 1.81 ERA. The highlights of the season were his two shutouts. Don Saine, Joe Morgan, Tom Maultsby, and Charlie Aycock were also top pitchers for the Tar Heels.

Dick Hudson led the hitters with a .313 average. Don Lewis, Bomber Hill, and Roger Hunnicutt were also powerful hitters.

The Tar Heels lost their chance to tie Duke for the ACC title by losing its last game to Maryland

8-7 in the ninth inning. The Tar Heels beat N. C. State twice, and Duke and Wake Forest once.

Pitching will be the big question for the 1958 baseball team. If the returning hurlers plus a couple of sophomores can come through, UNC could be back in running for the title.

COACH PAT EAREY

With almost the entire squad back from last year with the exception of Captain Charlie Krepp and divers Tom Parker and Mac MacInnis, the University of North Carolina Mermen continued to dominate the Atlantic Coast Conference. By the middle of February the Tar Heels had won easily over nine opponents.

Pat Earey, new head coach, has been well pleased by the performance of his men. The mermen had their best day of the year when they beat the University of Florida, the Southeastern Conference champions by 57-29. The Tar Heels won all but one first place.

This year's team includes five All-Americans. These are co-captains Walt Rose and Bill Roth. Bill Zickgraf, Tony Schiffman, and Mac Mahaffy. Paul Wachendorfer, Jeff Zwicker, Brent Nash, Kit Mercer, and Kelly Maness have been point winners and Ned Meekins, Dick Cashwell, and Pete Reynolds have held down the diving positions.

CAPTAIN STEVE BANK

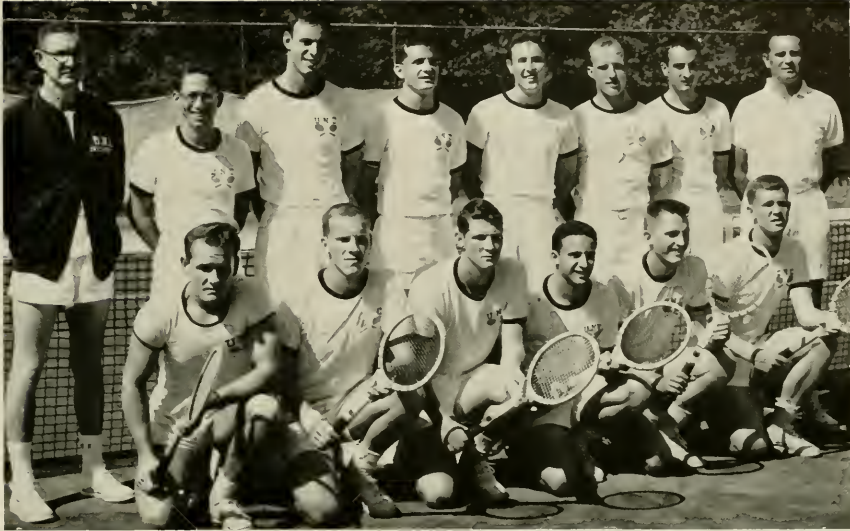

The 1957 UNC tennis team under its new coach Valdimir Cernik had one of its poorest records in years. The team finished with eight wins and nine losses, which was far off the 18-1 record of the previous year.

Steve Bank, ace of the team, was undefeated in conference play, seeded first place in the ACC tournament, but upset by Maryland's Jackson Yang 6-1, 6-4. Other top players were Geoff Black, Frank Livingston, Fritz Van Winkle, and Ray Newsome.

Golf

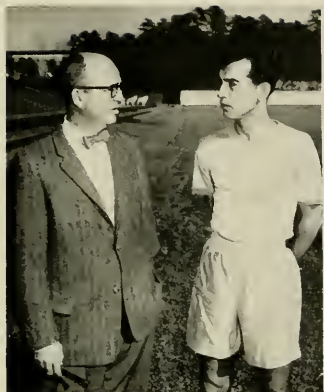

Although the UNC golf team failed to retain the ACC title, they won seven in a row and finished with a 10-2-1 record. The only losses were to Western Illinois and Maryland, while the Tar Heels won victories over Cornell, Michigan State, Wake Forest, Michigan, Duke, and N. C. State.

Tom Langley was number one man, while other starters were Gene Lookabill, Buck Adams, Tuffy Henderson, Sam Patrick, and Walt Summerville. Buck Adams reached the 1957 semi-finals of the National Intercollegiate golf tournament.

Track

The 1957 University of North Carolina track team had a successful season of four wins and two losses. The Tar Heels had victories over Wake Forest, N. C. State, South Carolina, and Duke, while losing to Maryland and Virginia. In the ACC meet North Carolina finished second to Duke. Dave Scurlock won the 440 yard run, 888 yard run, and anchored the winning mile relay team. He also won the "Most Outstanding Performer" reward. The mile relay team was composed of Jim Moss, John Sylvester, Dick McFadden and Scurlock.

Captain Jim Beatty, All-American for two years, broke both the mile and two mile conference records.

The primary function of Intramural Activities is to promote a broad program of competitive and recreational activities for the voluntary participation of the Carolina student body. The intramural program includes team, individual, dual, co-recreational, and outing activities. This wide variety enables you to sample a sufficient number to discover the one in which you are really interested and are capable of participating in with satisfaction while a student. Regular and wise participation in these activities permits the individual to acquire and maintain muscular strength, coordination, and endurance; to make many new and lasting friendships; and, most important, to have fun.

The UNC Cardboard plans and stages the outstanding card stunts which are presented at half-time at home football games. The Cardboard's three departments—art, office, and usher—function to draw the stunts, decide on colors, and distribute the cards.

Although the card stunts are the main concern of the Cardboard, it operates several committees for posting slogan cards, soliciting membership, publicity, keeping a scrapbook, and preparing the entry in the Beat Dook Parade.

Because of the outstanding leadership of President Peter Evans and the cooperation of the members, the Cardboard was a great success this year.

Cheerleaders

Carolina spirit has always been great through the passing years, and '57-'58 found no change. Pre-dawn practices complete with calisthenics under the watchful and capable eye of head-cheerleader Frankie Black were not drudgery with the promising ring of the football and basketball seasons to come.

Attired in new uniforms, originals by Amy Morse, the cheerleaders were ready September 21 when the whistle blew for the first game of the season. The cheerleaders were not to be disappointed by the teams or the spirit of the students. Both reached and surpassed all expectations. With the final basketball game the curtain came down on a year acclaimed by all as a success.

Frank Black works up enthusiasm among the crowd during every game in Kenan Stadium.

University Club

Officers of the University Club are Dave Jones, Vice-President; Barbara Honey, Secretary; and Frank Inman, President.

The work of the club began this year when it sponsored its first pep rally in Memorial Hall. At that time the club's service award was presented to Coach Jim Tatum. Then followed a dizzy whirl of outdoor pep rallies featuring bonfires, torches, confetti, Carolina blue paper in thousand foot rolls, the UNC Band, and sports cars and convertibles carrying campus queens.

Lovely Gail Willingham was awarded the club's Homecoming Queen crown and cup by Sonny Evans and Frank Inman. For away games the club sent encouraging thousand-word telegrams to the teams and supplied transportation to the airport for the cheerleaders to greet them on their return.

Sonny Evans and Frank Inman are shown with Gail Willingham as she was crowned Queen of Homecoming during half-time activities at the Tennessee game.

School of Law

School of Law

The School of Law of the University of North Carolina was founded in 1843 as a private school by Judge William H. Battle. It became affiliated with the University in 1845 when Judge Battle was made a Professor of Law. It was provided that the degree of Bachelor of Laws should be conferred on those completing the prescribed two-year course. Today, the prescribed course of study is three years.

The School of Law is approved by the North Carolina Board of Law Examiners. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, is listed as an approved law school by the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar, American Bar Association, and is registered as an approved law school by the State Department of Education of the State of New York.

School of Dentistry

The faculty and the Dean of the School of Dentistry again are proud to present the graduates of 1958 to the people of North Carolina and the country. Leadership of our past graduates has been evident everywhere in private practice, the Armed Forces, graduate study, teaching, and research. This is true of the graduates in dentistry, those who have elected to pursue a specialty, and the dental hygienists. The standards of admission remain high, and thereby the graduates are a select and well qualified group who can and will represent the University and the profession with the highest ideals and tradition.

Officers of the Spurgeon Dental Society are W. Grant Lynch, Vice-President, Mitchell Wallace, President, and Townsend Holt, Secretary-Treasurer.

Senior class officers are Jim Bantley, Vice-President, Fred Chandler, President, and William Haltiwanger, Secretary-Treasurer.

Junior class officers are Donald Rhodes, Secretary-Treasurer, Nat Garrison, President, and Paul Nifong, Vice-President

School of Pharmacy

Faculty members in the Pharmacy School include: Breck, Thomas, Taylor, Brown, Pianodosi, Smith, Semeniuk.

With plans well under way for a new building to house the School of Pharmacy, students again made their way through old Howell Hall which has been the home of pharmaceutical education in North Carolina since the early years of the century. The routine of lectures and labs, so familiar to the upperclassmen, new and strange to the freshmen, commenced again as another new year on the Hill began. New professors, new students, new librarian, and anxious interest in the plans for the new building, these contrasted with easy traditions of venerable Howell Hall.

As the year progressed, the fraternities, Pharmacy Senate, Student Branches of the A.Ph.A. and N.C.P.A., Kappa Epsilon, and the Pharmacy Girl's Association, worked, planned and thoroughly enjoyed not studying. Early in February the seniors departed for the "Big City" for a tour of the Lederle and Squibb Laboratories. Fraternity pledge week-ends, the annual Pharmacy Week-end with its traditional picnic and softball game between Kappa Psi and Phi Delta Chi, cabin party, and formal dance, and a Christmas party for the Pharmacy Student Body rounded out the pharmaceutical social calendar.

And now as the year draws to a close, the seniors look back with nostalgia, or with relief, upon their years in old Howell Hall, the freshmen look toward the future and a new Pharmacy School Building, and the profession looks toward the future with a renewed zeal and determination to serve the community as qualified, civic minded and dedicated pharmacists.

Pharmacy School Student Body officers are Hugh Hinton, President, Loretta Johnson, Secretary-Treasurer and Wayne Buie, Vice-President.

School of Nursing

The University of North Carolina School of Nursing, a unit within the Division of Health Affairs, provides educational opportunities for young women interested in becoming professional nurses. The School of Nursing offers a program leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing and covering two calendar and academic years. The University Health Center, located on the campus in Chapel Hill, provides hospital and out-patient experience in many fields, and includes a large general hospital, a tuberculosis hospital, and a psychiatric unit. Additional experiences are offered through the cooperation of day care centers, health departments, rural hospitals, and other community agencies. Qualified graduate nurses who have received a diploma from an approved school of nursing are also admitted to this program.

The School of Nursing also provides opportunity for graduate study leading to the degree of Master of Science in Nursing.

Andrey Booth, first student to complete graduate program in Nursing Service Administration.

Receiving the School of Nursing pin from Dean Kemble marks a high point in graduation activities.

A student nurse and patients enjoy reading together.

Learning to care for infants is a very important part of the student nurse's program.

Returning to school after experience as a graduate nurse is a real adventure for registered nurse students.

According to Dean McGavran, "Public Health is the science of the diagnosis and treatment of the health needs and status of the total community—or body politic as an entity."

UNC's School of Public Health, the fourth oldest school of its kind in the United States and one of the ten North American schools accredited by the American Public Health Association, incorporates this way of thinking into its curriculum. Professional people taking postgraduate work learn to function as inter-disciplinary community health teams through core courses, lectures, lab and field experience. The school, the focal training and service point for an intergrated statewide health program, attracts students from many other states and foreign countries.

This year the School has outstanding students from thirty of the forty-eight states, as well as from sixteen foreign countries, including Afghanistan, Ceylon, Egypt, France, India, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Nepal, Peru, Puerto Rico, the Philippines, Taiwan, Thailand, Uruguay, and Zanzibar. These foreign students are the top professional health people of their countries. They have enriched the curriculum for all students through seminar sessions and informal discussion of the basic health problems and experiences in their respective cultures. In the close professional association throughout the school year mutual understanding and respect have developed and deepened, personally, professionally, and internationally.

A Halloween Party in the Tin Can proves that students in Public Health believe that "all work and no play . . ."

A notice? A summons? A "Happy Birthday?" This is the focal point.

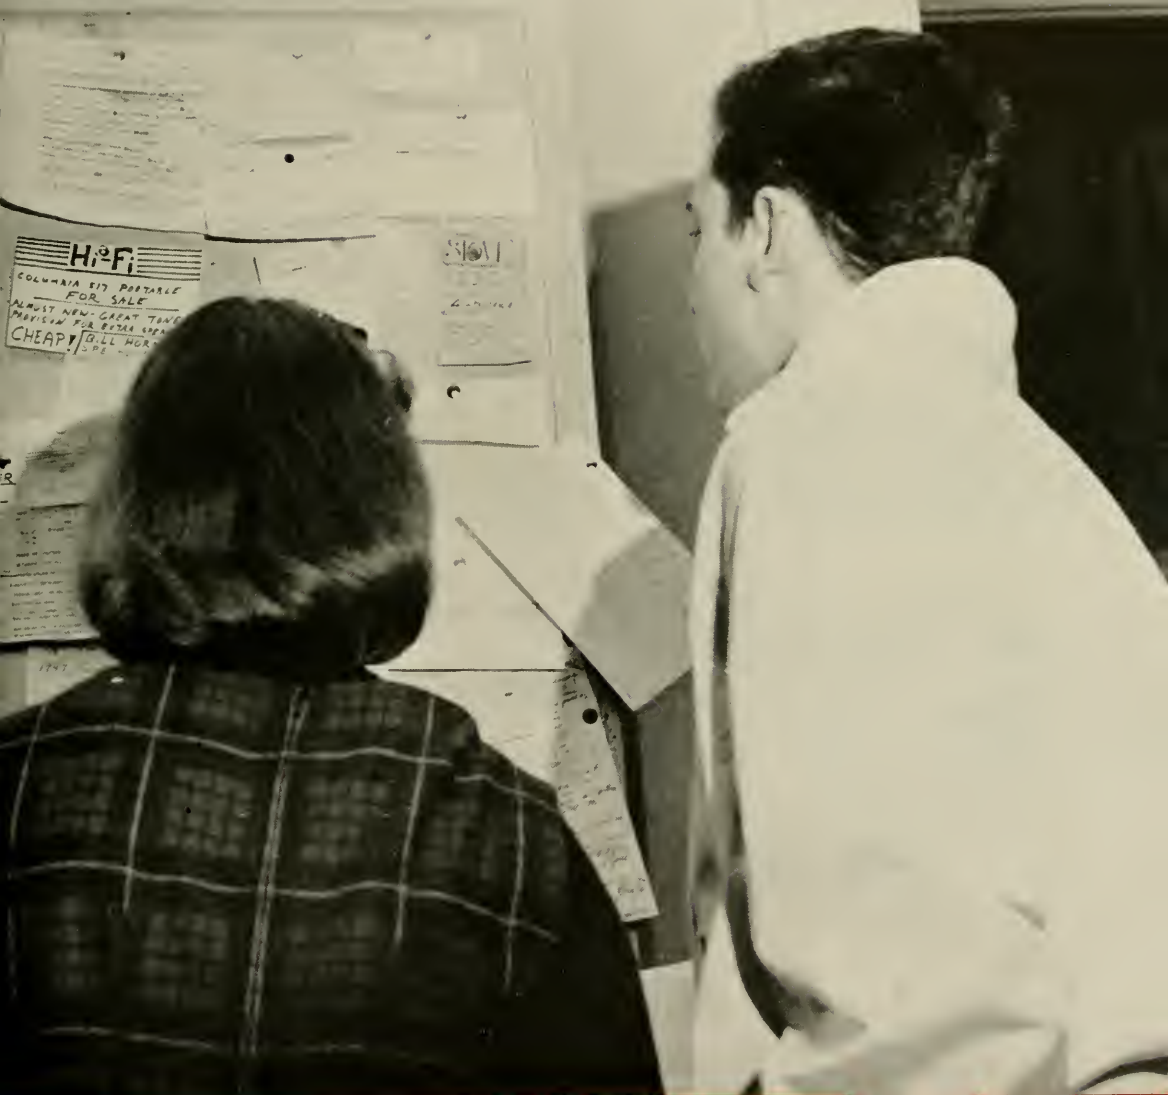

Prexy asks nurse Peg "who, what, why, where, and when" about nurses during a coffee break in the hospital cafeteria.

Logs go crashing
in a mighty dive!

Hobnails flashing on a timber drive!

Where the loggers work
you'll find a man

Stops and takes big pleasure when and where he can... Chesterfield!

Top-tobacco, straight Grade-A, the top-tobacco in the U.S.A.

This sun-drenched top-tobacco's gonna mean...

That you're smokin' smoother and you're smokin' clean!

Best tobacco in the U.S.A. gives big clean flavor in a big, big way.

When you've earned a smoke—nothing satisfies like the BIG CLEAN TASTE OF TOP-TOBACCO!
